IPCS WORLDS BEST CONSULTANT GROUP PROJECT REPORT ON COW DUNG PAINTS

INTRODUCTION

What are paints?

Paint is any liquid, liquefiable, or mastic composition that, after application to a substrate in a thin layer, converts to a solid film. It is most commonly used to protect, colour, or provide texture to objects. Paint can be made or purchased in many colours and in many different types, such as watercolour, synthetic, etc. Paint is typically stored, sold, and applied as a liquid, but most types dry into a solid.

Main objective of the manufacturing of the Cow dung paints:-

The main objective of the manufacturing of the cow dung paint is to supply the Non volatile paints which are helpful in killing microbes and bacteria and health friendly.

This can further be developed by making it washable and with better shelf-life cow dung acts as an insulator. It helps keep warm in winter and cool in summer. Due to this antibacterial property, it helps kill Micro-organisms. Moreover, Cow dung has been used since ages and are available in plenty of amount Hence cost of production is relatively very low. It is heat resistant and considered antiseptic in nature.

Why Cow dung is Used in The Paint?

1. Improves air quality up to 50%
2. Antiseptic in nature
3. Heat Resistant
4. Cost effective (7 -10 Rs. per piece of dung cake) .
5. Dried dung is odourless
6. Cow Dung acts as an insulator, keeping heat out in the summer and holding it inside in winter.
7. Not only is it free from bacteria, but it also does a good job of killing it.
8. Goma (dung) is considered very valuable and used to purify the environment.
9. Protects from UV radiations by keeping a check on them, as it has Radium present in it.
10. Cost of Paint is inversely proportional to the Cow dung Used.
11. Acts as a coolant, no need to use A/C Saves up to 40,000/-
12. Acts as an Insulator, keeping the house warm, discarding heaters.
13. The thinner smelt by the working men causes them Arthropulmonary diseases & mental harm etc.
